

ATLANTA
MUSIC PROJECT

2016-2017 ANNUAL REPORT

www.atlantamusicproject.org

As a noteworthy and nationally recognized program, AMP continued its commitment to artistic excellence in its seventh year of creating social change through music.

Music is an expression of who we are as individuals and as a society, and its impact is deep and profound. University studies have shown that music instruction has a significant and positive impact on school-age children and teenagers, including:

- Dramatically improved academic performance
- Decreased drug use
- Increased positive social behavior

The Atlanta Music Project exists in order to provide all children the opportunity to learn and perform in orchestras and choirs. AMP continues to raise the bar for music education and social change. We look forward to our continued growth and witnessing the magic of music through the eyes of our young performers.

ATLANTA MUSIC PROJECT MISSION STATEMENT:

“To empower underserved youth to realize their possibilities through music.”

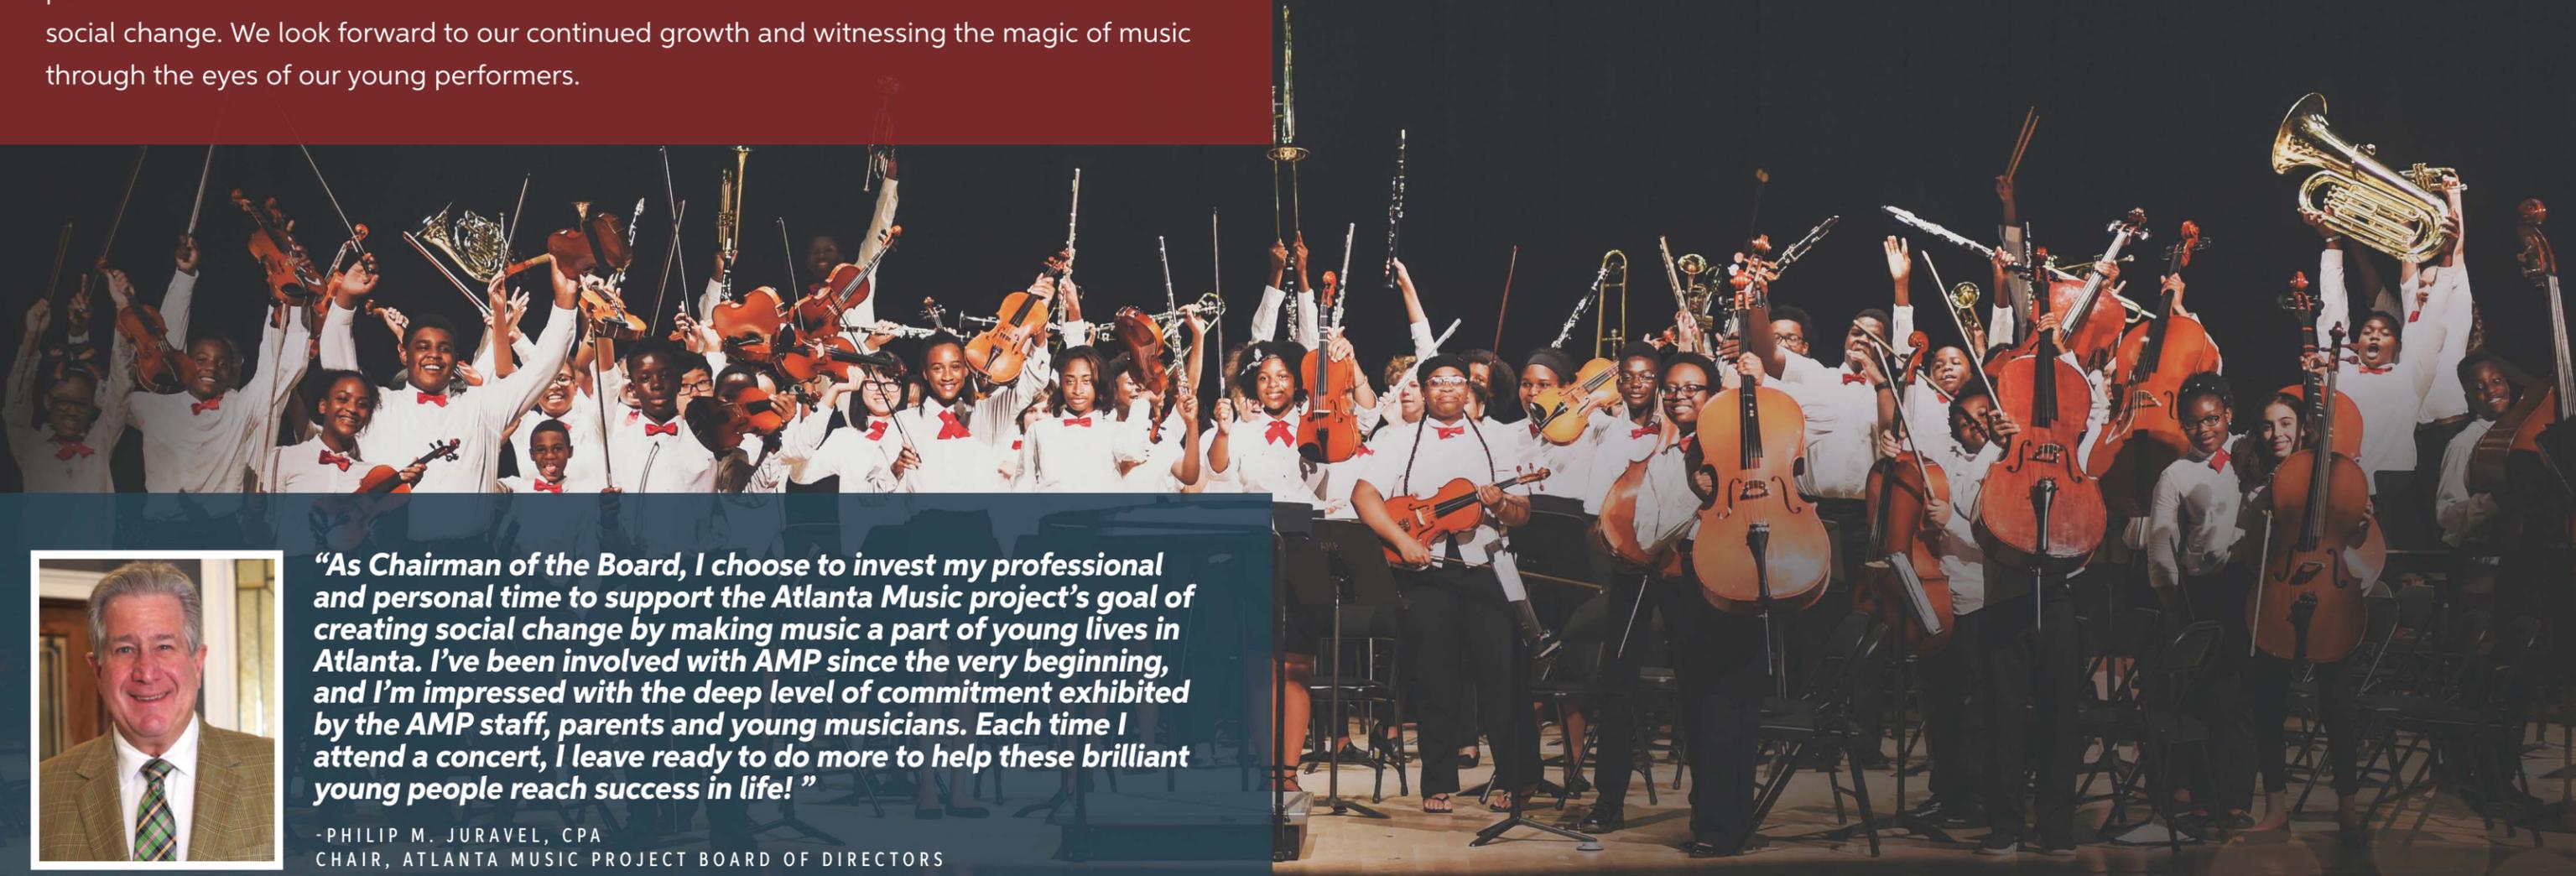

ATLANTA MUSIC PROJECT VISION STATEMENT:

“Be the model for youth development in Atlanta and beyond.”

“As Chairman of the Board, I choose to invest my professional and personal time to support the Atlanta Music project’s goal of creating social change by making music a part of young lives in Atlanta. I’ve been involved with AMP since the very beginning, and I’m impressed with the deep level of commitment exhibited by the AMP staff, parents and young musicians. Each time I attend a concert, I leave ready to do more to help these brilliant young people reach success in life!”

AMP SUMMER SERIES

ATLANTA MUSIC PROJECT
AMP SUMMER SERIES

This year the AMP Summer Series returned – with noted additions. Enrollment was expanded to 115 students, and young artists studied their instruments diligently for 5 days per week, 8 hours per day, for 3 weeks.

The 2017 AMP Summer Series provided group lessons, choral and orchestral rehearsals, masterclasses, courses in music theory, composition, voice studio, African drumming and acting, as well as five free concerts. Inspired by legendary summer music programs such as the Aspen Music Festival, Interlochen Summer Arts Camp and Brevard Summer Music Festival, the AMP Summer Series brings music education, summer camp and live musical performances to intown Atlanta south of Interstate 20.

Special AMP Summer Series Opening Night guests, The Harlem Quartet, take a bow alongside the AMP Summer Series String Faculty, after a rousing joint performance of Felix Mendelssohn's Octet in Eb Major.

ATLANTA MUSIC PROJECT
ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF NOTE

 AMP was chosen as a grant recipient for Carnegie Hall's Play USA program. PlayUSA offers funding and professional development to organizations nationwide that offer instrumental music education to underserved youth.

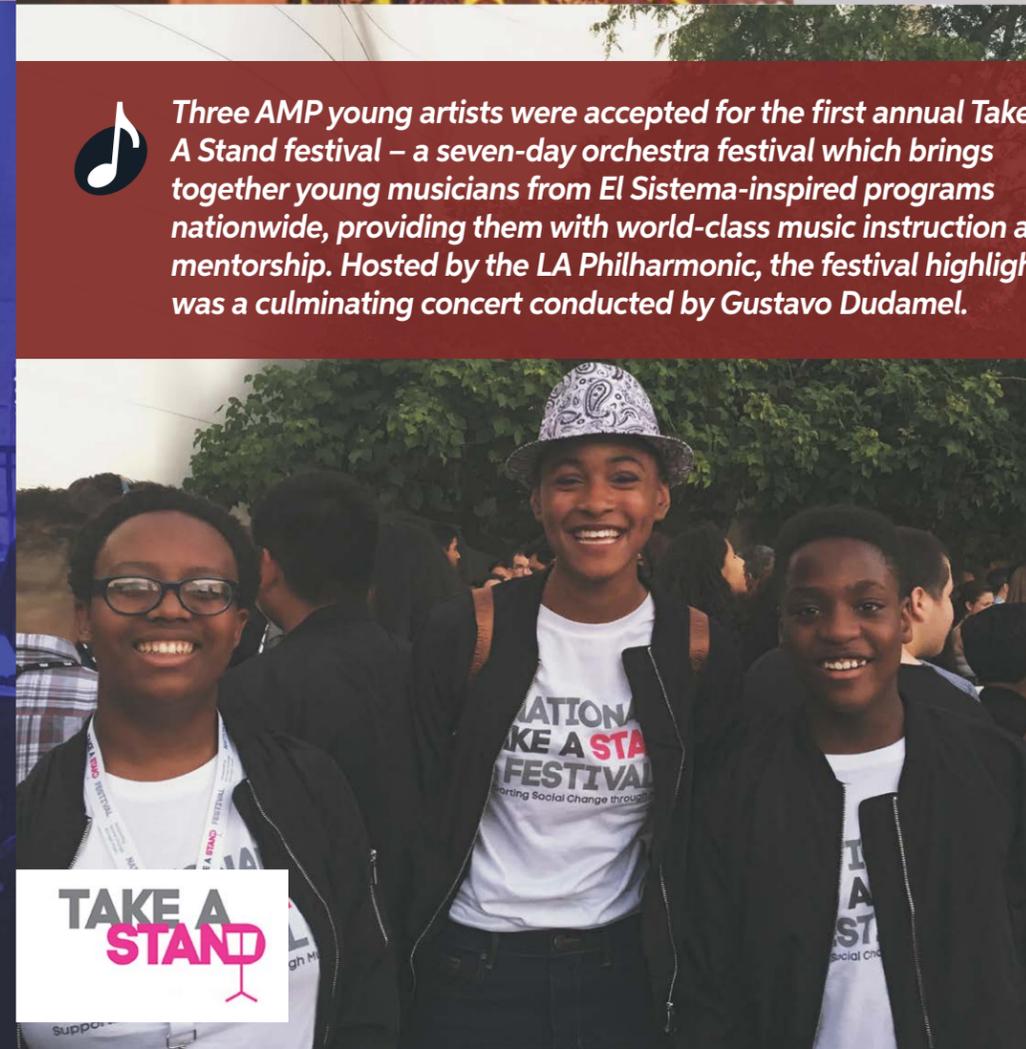

ATLANTA MUSIC PROJECT

 The 2017 AMPlify Black History Month concert featured the works of composers of African descent, with special Guest Artist Jayme Alilaw, Soprano.

 One of the world's top violinists, Damien Escobar, led a masterclass class with select members of the AMP Academy. He was so impressed with the quality of the young string players that he invited them to perform at his show that night at Atlanta's own Center Stage!

 Three AMP young artists were accepted for the first annual Take A Stand festival – a seven-day orchestra festival which brings together young musicians from El Sistema-inspired programs nationwide, providing them with world-class music instruction and mentorship. Hosted by the LA Philharmonic, the festival highlight was a culminating concert conducted by Gustavo Dudamel.

 Joshua Shepherd, double-bassist, played in the Georgia Music Educators' Association All-State Orchestra for a second year in a row.

ATLANTA MUSIC PROJECT LONGITUDINAL IMPACT EVALUATION

In 2015, AMP partnered with the University of Kansas Center for Public Partnerships and Research to conduct a comprehensive analysis that will serve as the baseline of a multi year study of the effects of AMP’s signature music education programs on student development across multiple key areas including academics, character development and musicality. The study used AMPlify’s Choir site at The Kindezi Schools as the subjects of their study.

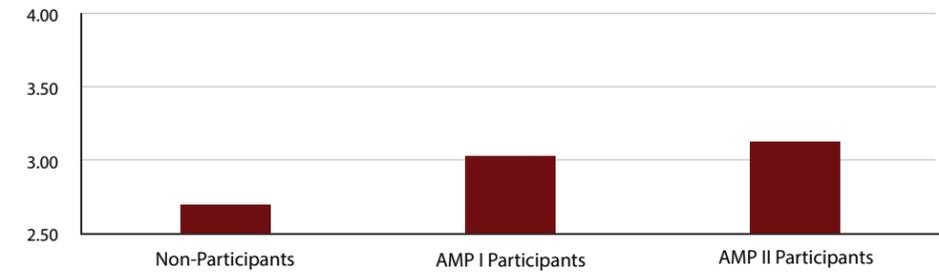

Data is collected at the beginning and end of the school year, including the results of student focus groups, surveys and academic performance of AMPlify and non AMPlify students.

In this Year 2 study, student perceptions of AMPlify started relatively high in November, and were even higher in May. Students recognize the opportunity that the program gives them to grow—as musicians in particular and as learners in general. They could give examples of specific musical concepts they had learned over the course of the year (mentioning musical terms, describing appropriate singing and playing positions). They could also make transfers to classes and situations outside of AMPlify when other lessons learned would be applicable, like discipline and respect. A key insight that students had gained by May is how teamwork affects their ability to perform as an ensemble. Clearly, this insight showed growth in their character, in their pride of having a quality performance, and in their self-identification as musicians.

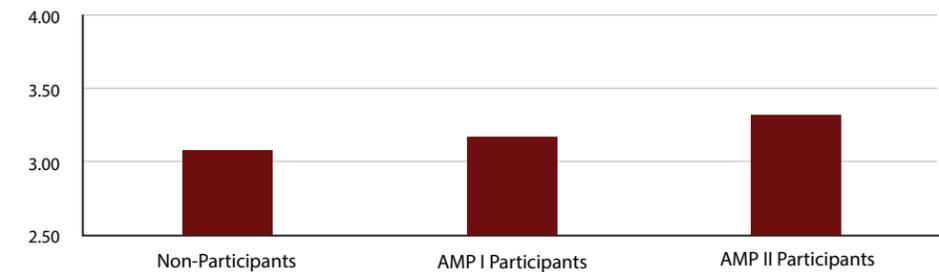

Academic record information for all students was examined to determine school performance relationships between AMPlify participation and non-participation for all observed variables. Aspects examined were Behavioral Referrals and Attendance rate, as well as Measure of Academic Progress.

NEW GOLF TOURNAMENT

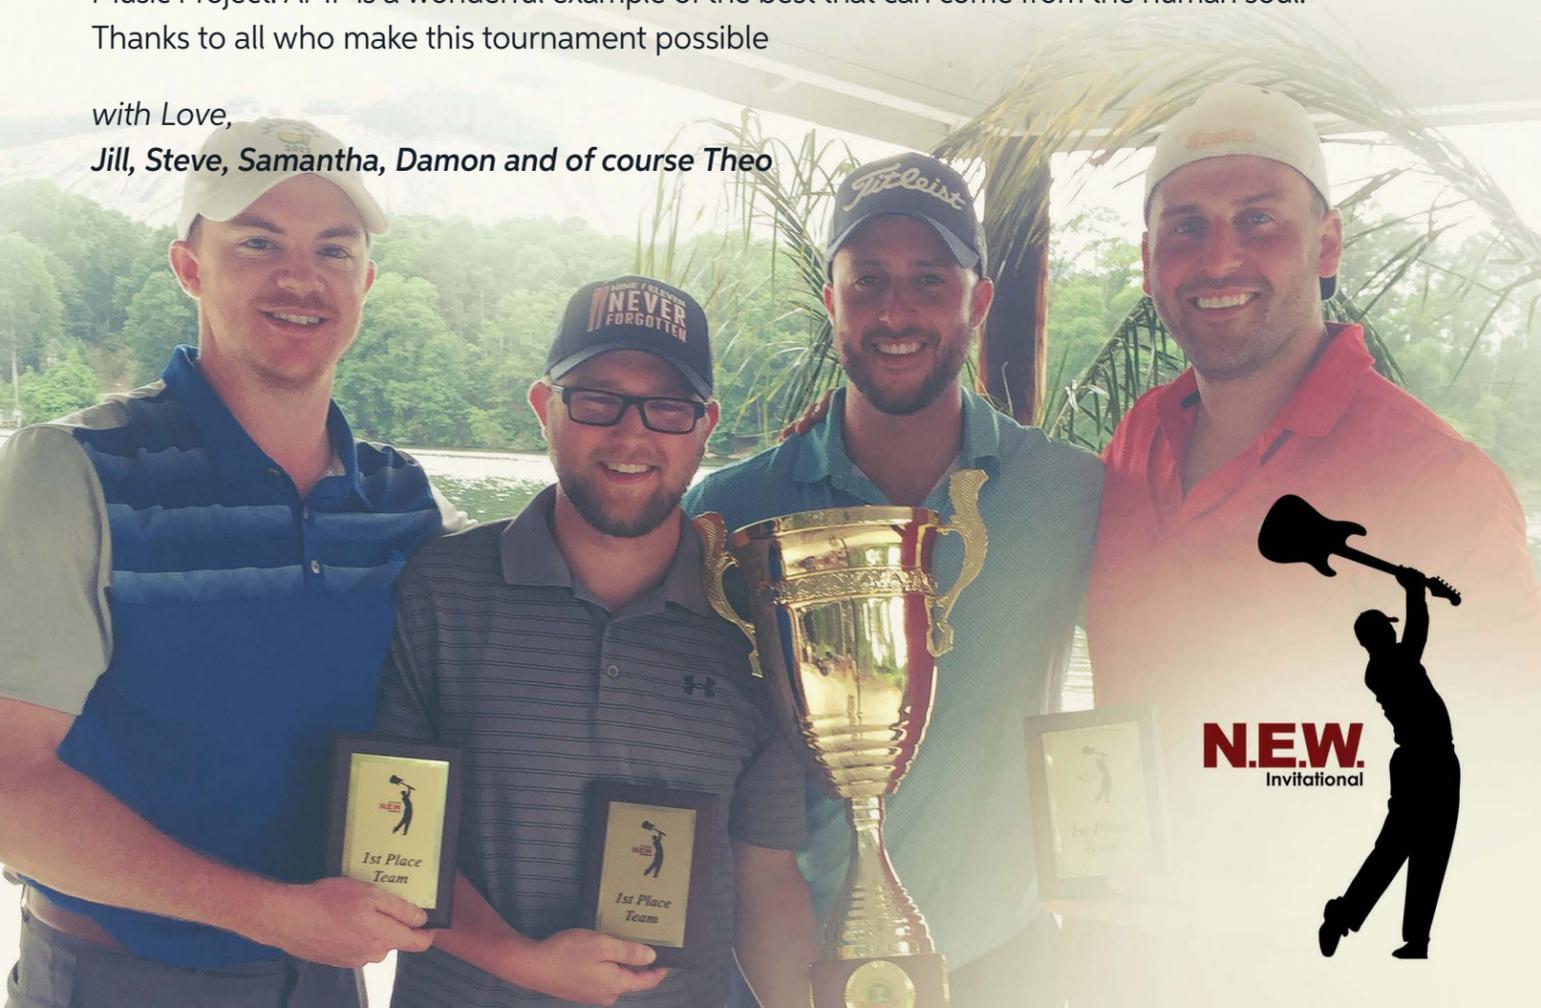

In honor of their late son Nick Wadley, Steve and Jill Wadley launched the Annual Nicholas Evan Wadley (NEW) Charity Golf Invitational in 2013, hosted by Click Media, Inc. Now in its fourth year, the tournament was held at Stone Mountain Golf Club in May 2017, with the Atlanta Music Project as the charitable recipient. Steve Wadley is a member of the Atlanta Music Project Board of Directors. He explains why this event is so important to him and his family:

“The 5th year of the Nick Wadley Memorial Golf Tournament is on May 5th. The tournament is a shining example of turning lemons into lemonade. It is also an example of the power and perseverance of Love and Friendship. The idea, promotion and production of this tournament belongs to a group of Nick’s closest friends. They are dedicated to the idea of keeping Nick’s spirit alive.”

Golf Committee Members - Geramy Cullins • Rose and Daniel Dorfman • Deana and Scott Jacobsen • Elizabeth Duggan • Cathy and Larry Dorfman

We are pleased that the proceeds for this tournament go to help the kids of Atlanta through Atlanta Music Project. AMP is a wonderful example of the best that can come from the human soul. Thanks to all who make this tournament possible with Love,

Jill, Steve, Samantha, Damon and of course Theo
